Congratulations, Norman a thoroughly enjoyable and informative read. That Reminds Me is A Conversational Memoir by Hollywood biographer and award-winning author Norman Zierold. Rather than a chronology of his life, the author engages the reader in a conversational manner, relating various episodes from his life that come to mind, one triggering another. There s never a dull moment! Norman Zierold s charmed life started humbly in the Amana Colonies of Iowa. All that changed after Norman joined the Navy. The war came to an end and Norman used the GI Bill of Rights to attend Harvard, where he graduated cum laude. He then earned a graduate degree in English Literature at the University of Iowa. While looking for work he was given the opportunity to teach English in France. One of his jobs was enjoying English conversations with the son of the President of France. They even invited him to watch the coronation of Britain s Queen Elizabeth II on television at their personal residence. Other meetings with cultural luminaries ensued. Upon Norman s return to the states he headed for New York, where he worked his way up to becoming the editorial director of Theater Arts Magazine. Eventually he went to Hollywood to fulfill his lifelong calling to become a writer and published several noted Hollywood biographies: The Child Stars, The Moguls: Hollywood s Merchants of Myth, Garbo, Sex Goddesses of the Silent Screen ; and two true-crime accounts, Little Charley Ross: The story of America s first kidnapping for ransom, and Three Sisters in...
